

PEOPLEKEYS® API

The PeopleKeys® Application Programming Interface (API) allows you to integrate trusted online personality profiling features into your own website or application. All the functionality of the assessment-taking process is available through the PeopleKeys API.

API integration does require an experienced, full stack developer or technical team to integrate it into your website or application. This solution is great for large corporations that have a development team on-staff and plan on a large volume usage of DISC and other behavioral assessments.
